

Lu Cibelli

Senior Career Coach

"I am driven to assist individuals in effectively navigating their career paths, acquiring new skills in their job search, and finding personal and professional success - this is my greatest source of professional pride."

Dedicated and thoughtful Career Transition Coach with more than 20 years in the for-profit and non-profit sectors, working in hospitals, associations, and local and global consulting firms and earning progressive promotions through operational, human resources, consulting, and business development roles.

Today's job market requires a multipronged approach to job searches. Lu's expertise comes from her own career changes combined with professional certifications, interpersonal capabilities, and skillful utilization of the continually updated technology skills and tools available through Bravanti.

Key Areas of Career Expertise & Accomplishments

Lu recently returned to Bravanti as a Career Transition Coach, having previously worked in this capacity for five years. In the interim, she took several operational roles in healthcare, as an instructor for career coaching courses at Harper College, and as a Resume Editor with a prominent healthcare executive association. Lu is a current board member with a local health foundation which supports health and education charitable agencies in the Chicago area.

Prior to her first stint with Bravanti, Lu worked for two other human resource consulting firms as an Executive Coach, Career Transition Coach, and Organizational Development Consultant. She began her career in the healthcare sector, progressing through senior level human resources, patient advocacy and risk management roles in acute, rehab and LTAC hospital settings.

Education & Credentials

Lu earned her Bachelor's Degree in Psychology from Quincy University in Quincy, Illinois, and undertook graduate coursework in Marketing at Benedictine University in Lisle, Illinois. She has also obtained both MBTI and Career Coach Certifications.

Coaching Philosophy

The main driver to Lu's coaching approach is her belief that every person has their own unique background, current situation and career aspiration. She works to assist her clients to develop an effective customized plan and strategy to uncover and assess career opportunities and to make good decisions based on their unique personal and professional needs.
