Career Coach

"Knowing and being confident in your strengths and accomplishments is the key to career success."

Marian is an accomplished and enthusiastic Career Coach, working diligently with candidates to achieve their job search and career goals through confidence-building and meeting them "where they are at". Marian brings an extensive background in Recruitment and Human Resources (Rockrose Development, PBR Search) in both the corporate and non-profit sectors as well as many years in the Technology Project Management space (GE Capital, AXA Financial, Scholastic, Inc.). Having navigated her own career transition, Marian is compassionate and dedicated to helping candidates to find and be successful in their new roles.

Key Areas of Expertise & Accomplishments

With a big focus on helping candidates to create high quality resumes, LinkedIn Profiles, and their personal brand, Marian has successfully helped candidates in their transition to finding new and exciting careers. Navigating the ever-changing world of technology is daunting, using her experience in technology, Marian offers a customized approach to career transition and job search, meeting candidates where they are at and gently guiding them through the process and the many resources available to them at Bravanti. Gladly taking on the role of "Federal Resume" guru, Marian has successfully helped several candidates transition from corporate to federal careers.

As a newly appointed as Board Director at of The New England Society of New York, Marian has combined her love of history with a passion for giving back and helping others through education and training. Actively involved in the volunteer world, Marian brings a breadth of experience and connections in both the corporate, federal, and non-profit sectors as well as many years of fund-raising experience and event planning in both Education and Health Care (Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center).

Education & Credentials

Marian is a graduate of Roger Williams University, with a B.A. in American Studies, focusing on social and cultural history. At GE Capital, Marian obtained training in Six Sigma as well as continual training in Telecommunications hardware and networks. Marian earned a Management Training Certificate at AXA Financial, Bordeaux, France.

Coaching Philosophy

Marian is passionate about working closely with individual candidates to create a unique job search and career transition plan which best meets their personal and professional goals.
